

Welcome Friends and Fellow Homeschoolers,

The FAITH homeschoolers leadership team is excited to share with you our new format for the home school program. After many prayerful months we have made many changes that we know will improve our children's experience and education as well as making the best use of our time together.

Let us introduce ourselves:

Gayle Marsella- Co-coordinator (gmmiraclemakers@charter.net 267-9396)

Annabeth Johnson- Volunteer Coordinator (Annabeth@usermail.com 265-1636)

Susan Plenge- Co-coordinator (bosco415@gmail.com 267-9266)

Sequoia Rohr- Treasurer, Facilities (sequoiamom@charter.net 782-7349)

Alisa Andrews-Publicity coordinator (dd2tch@msn.com) 267-6778

Sonia Pietras-Registration & Finance (pietrasfour@yahoo.com) 265-5773

Our first and most noticeable change is our name and logo. We are FAITH homeschoolers which stands for Families Academically Impacting Their Homes. This is to reflect that our home-schooling group will be something new and different.

We believe that as the parents of our children, we are the best suited to educate them. We have taken their education into our own hands to insure the highest quality learning possible. FAITH homeschoolers has been designed to partner with you to enhance learning that is already taking place at home. Our second change to make that happen was to choose to have vendor and teacher instructors in our classrooms. The following are the definitions for vendor and teacher:

- A vendor is someone who is qualified to teach a specific subject either through education or experience, which is subject to approval by the leadership team. This role is a paid position.
- A teacher in our program is defined as a parent or volunteer who would like to share their talents and teach on a volunteer basis.

FAITH's leadership team has chosen as our number one priority, the goal to offer an organized and quality program. We have been contacting both teachers and vendors to gauge their level of interest and can report positive responses. Now that we have developed policies, procedures, calendars, etc. the next step is to request confirmation, followed by the distribution of a curriculum calendar. Watch your e-mail for updates on our new web page www.faithhomeschoolers.com

We are still considering teacher and vendor positions. If you know someone or a business that could contribute to the quality of our program please contact your leadership team.

As a team we know that God is at work in developing FAITH and your participation is critical to its success.
